1. A supply and ammunition depot for the 1 Bulgarian Army has been constructed in the mountains near the village of Dolno Kamartsi (N4242 E2351). The depot is located three kilometers west of the village and lies south of the Sarantsi (N4243 E2348)-Pirdop (N4241 E2412) road. It is approximately 2.6 kilometers north of the Sofia-Makotsevo (N4241 E2348)-Pirdop railway line. The whole depot occupies an area approximately three kilometers in diameter.
2. The supply and ammunition depot is carefully hidden in the mountains. A large part, and probably all of the depot is underground. Construction work on this depot started in 1951 and is now almost completed. The work was carried out by the "Disciplinary Company" of 1 Army, Podelenie 40,400¹, and by a company of Trudovaks, Podelenie 40,120. The branch line linking the Sofia-Makotsevo-Pirdop railway with the depot was built at this same time. Soil excavated to make underground storehouses was dumped in such a way as to appear to be part of the mountains and has now been planted with trees.
3. During the summer of 1952, the ammunition and supply depot received for storage the following:
 - a. Antitank T-34 (sic) mines;
 - b. Anti-infantry mines;
 - c. Stores of tetryl; and
 - d. Artillery shells of various calibers.
